

Client Profile

My client is Takuro Joseph. He is twenty-five years old. He has two hobbies. The first is training his body. Knights need physical strength, so he has to train his body every day and he like it very much.

The second is making a sword because he wants a strong sword so he makes swords by himself. ^{It takes a lot of time to make a sword} He likes black because he wears black clothes.

He is good at hiding a horse. He rides a horse almost everytime when he moves, so he can ride it very well. And he is very cool because he is not always smiling. If he is always smiling, he doesn't look strong.

He wants a strong weapon to fight. If the weapon breaks easily, he can't fight well.

< Color >

This watch and controller is black. My client likes black and when he is in danger, he has to hide. Black is hard to find for others.

< Form >

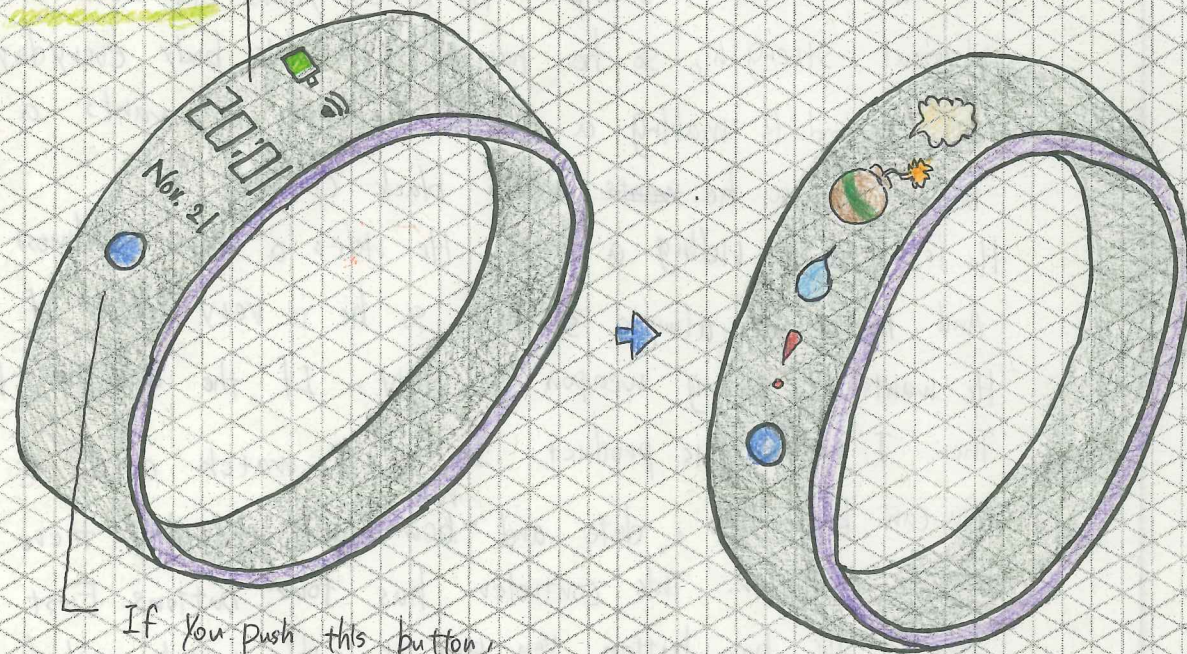

This watch has a round shape, so it is easy to fit and not dangerous.

It can usually be used as a watch. You know time, date and how much charging there is.

< Material >

This watch and controller is made from silicon. Silicon is very light and strong so it doesn't break easily.
